

VIKING IN THE WHITE HOUSE

MADE IN AMERICA PRODUCT SHOWCASE

On Monday, July 23, 2018, Viking Range, LLC joined President Donald J. Trump, Vice President Mike Pence, members of the Administration and White House staff for a Made in America Product Showcase. President Trump hosted companies from across the country to celebrate and highlight each state's effort and commitment to American-made goods. Businesses from each of the 50 states were invited to display their products made and produced in the United States. Mississippi based Viking Range, LLC showcased their newest American-made Viking Range during the event.

On display at The White House was the latest award-winning and innovative Viking 7 Series Dual Fuel Range which provides true commercial type cooking for the home. Representing Viking Range, LLC for this event were Kevin Brown, President; Tim Tyler, Director of Marketing; and Thomas Lucic, Industrial Designer who greeted visitors and answered questions about Viking's complete line of indoor and outdoor products.

This event, sponsored by The White House, honors the incredible workers and companies who make "Made in America" the world standard for quality and craftsmanship. In Greenwood, Viking has three state-of-the-art manufacturing facilities that produce Viking cooking, ventilation, refrigeration and outdoor products.
